

title was first given to the star now lettered θ , the farthest in the Stream known by Arabian astronomers. For α Bayer had Acharnar pro Achar-nahar vel Acharnarim, and Enar; Caesius, Acarnar; Riccioli, Acarnaharim and Acharnaar; Scaliger, Acharnarin; Schickard, Achironnahri; while Achenar and Archarnar are still occasionally used.

This star is supposed to be one of Dante's Tre Facelle, notwithstanding its invisibility from Italy.

Chinese astronomers knew it as Shwuy Wei.

Ptolemy did not mention it, although he could have seen it from the latitude of Alexandria, $31^{\circ} 11'$,—a fact, among others, which argues that his catalogue was not based upon original observations, but drawn from the now lost catalogue of Hipparchos, compiled at Rhodes, more than 5° further north, from which place Achernar was not visible.

It culminates on the 4th of December, due south of Baten Kaitos.

β , 2.9, topaz yellow.

Cursa, 3° to the northwest of Rigel in Orion, is the principal star in this constellation, seen from the latitude of New York City.

The word is from Al Kursiyy al Jauzah, the Chair, or Footstool, of the Central One, i. e. Orion, formed by β , λ , and ψ Eridani with τ Orionis, and regarded as the support of his left foot; but in the earlier astronomy of the nomads it was one of Al Udhā al Na'ām, the Ostrich's Nest, that some extended to α^1 and α^2 .

The Century Cyclopedia gives Dhalim as an alternative title, undoubtedly from Al Ṭhalim, the Ostrich; but, although used for β by several writers, this better belongs to θ .

The Chinese called β Yuh Tsing, the Golden Well.

γ^1 , 3, yellow.

Zaurac and Zaurak are from the Arabic Al Nā'ir al Zaurak, the Bright Star of the Boat; but Ideler applied this early designation to the star that now is α of our Phoenix.

With δ , ϵ , η , and others near, it made up the Chinese Tien Yuen, the Heavenly Park.

η , 3.7, pale yellow.

Azha is supposed to have been the Azhā of Al Sufi, and the equivalent Ashiyane of the Persians, and was known by Kazwini as Al Udhīyy, being
